

REQUEST FOR CUSTOMIZED PRODUCTS

I LOVE creating content! I actually have fun making nutrition handouts and PowerPoint presentations that are eye catching, easy to read, relevant, and fun! That way, when you are presenting the information to your audience, they are captivated, they listen, they engage and they learn!

The only thing I love more than creating content, is being the one to present it! In many instances, I will do live events for free if there is potential for me to create sales out of it. But if this is a no-sales event then a fee will accompany the event.

I also love to write ... it comes easy to me. And I know it doesn't to everybody. So I'm happy to write your next nutrition article for your company's website, blog, or newsletter for you.

All products are YOURS and you can put your name on them. However, there will be a small footnote with my name.

After filling out the attached form, please email it directly to:
LindseyElizabethNutrition@gmail.com

I'll review within 3 business days to let you know if I can accomplish the task or if I need more clarification.

After accepting the job offer, I will send you the invoice.

Payments are not required until after completion of the project and a satisfied customer. Edits and revisions are unlimited until you are satisfied.

Failure to pay the invoice after a project is handed over will result in a termination of working together and potential law suits.
